

Chavruta Collection

A celebration of learning together

Chavruta Projects: a brief history

Chavruta Collection is an opportunity to celebrate the success of the Chavruta Project in Limmud's 25th year. By taking just four sections from the many books, we hope we are representing the excitement of chavruta learning.

Here's a recap of all the previous Chavruta projects, year by year, from 1997 to 2004. Our grateful thanks go to Uri Berkowitz of Design Matters for the beautiful artwork and covers that have made the books so memorable and enhanced our learning experience.

Limmudim (2004), edited by Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz and Deborah Silver

Dimensions of study, prepared by Miriam Bayfield and Steven Feldman. Students, by Daniel Vulkan and Nicole Berenson. Teachers, by Oren Kaplan and Tania Smollan-Kaplan. Seeking God in study, by Daniel Eilon, Dan Rickman and Abi Wood.

Avodah (2003), edited by Gila Sacks and Paul Turner

Slavery, prepared by Danny Burkeman and Eran Shafir. Serving God, by Dina Sacks, Greg Alexander and the editors. Work ethic, by Shoshi and Tamar Ish-Horowicz and Michelle Shelemay. Business ethics, by Ronnie Cohen and Rachel Harris.

Guf (2002), edited by Claire Mandel

Body and ritual, prepared by Paul Turner and Deborah Silver. Tzniut, modesty, by Sara Levene, Roni Tabick and Shoshannah Burke. Body and soul, by Justin Wise and Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz. Intervening with the body, by Nikki Glantz, Adam Kaye, Claire Mandel and Daniel Oppenheimer.

K'dushah (2001), edited by Chani Smith

'You shall be holy', prepared by Elisheva and Grant Harris and Andrew Levy. Kiddush Hashem, sanctifying God's name, by Gidon and Karina Koch. Holy time, holy place, by Margaret Jacobi and Jacqueline Nicholls. Kodesh v'chol, holy and not holy, by Gila Sacks and Deborah Silver.

Ahava (2000), edited by Julian Gilbey

Love your neighbour, prepared by Claire Mandel and Rimona Weil. Love in relationships, by Paul and Vanessa Freedman. Loving God, by Shira Lewin Solomons, Zvi Solomons and Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz. Is love all you really need?, by Judit and Doron Rubin and Dina Pinner.

Zachor (1999), edited by Daniel Oppenheimer

Memory and action, prepared by Andrew Levy and Julian Gilbey. Commemoration, by Deborah Myers-Weinstein and Daniella Shalev. God's memory, by Adam Taub and Michael Laitner. Remembering and forgetting, by Chani and Danny Smith.

Lashon (1998), edited by Raphael Zarum

Speech, prepared by Chani and Danny Smith. Talebearing, by Sybil Sheridan and Deborah Myers-Weinstein. Do it yourself rebuking, by Fern Berl and Lilach Tchlenov. Standards for media behaviour, by David Levin-Kruss and Daniel Oppenheimer.

Dorot (1997), edited by Raphael Zarum; second edition (2003) Julian Gilbey

What do children owe their parents?, What do parents owe their children?, Who wants to be a parent?, Dedication to education, and Relating to the aged, all prepared by Jonnie Cohen, Paul Glantz, Sybil Sheridan and Deborah Myers-Weinstein.

Tzedaka (1996), edited by Jonnie Cohen

Who should receive tzedaka?, The relationship between the giver and the receiver, How much to give, and The ultimate purpose of tzedaka, all prepared by Sybil Sheridan, Paul Glantz, Jeremy Wanderer, Jamie Salter, Paul Dinkin and Raphael Zarum.

A few individuals have given invaluable help, time and again over the last eight years. Amongst others, the Chavruta Project is indebted to Uri Berkowitz, Julian Gilbey, Norm Guthartz, Raphael Loewe, Claire Mandel, Steve Miller, Jacqueline Nicholls, Annabel Ries, Leo Samuel, Jeremy Schonfield, Chani Smith, Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz and Raphael Zarum.